NAR Fair Housing - (2 HOURS-CE). The fair housing course provides real estate professionals with essential training on federal, state and local fair housing laws. It reviews the history and purpose of the Fair Housing Act, outlines the seven federally protected classes and emphasizes a broker's legal and ethical responsibility to provide equal housing opportunities. The course explores common pitfalls such as steering and discriminatory advertising, while also addressing unconscious bias and fairness.

The National Association of REALTORS requires its members to take the class every three years. LBAR sends information to their members reminding them of this requirement.

Location of Classes:

Cost: $25.00
